Two-Year Assessed Valuation Rise 24 1/2 Per Cent

First, the good news.

The County tax rate may go down next year.

But while you're waiting, take a look at your newly increased assessed valuation.

Valuations set by the county assessor this year totals $3,680,149,000 — up 13.8 per cent.

Last year the increase was 10.7 per cent.

The 1973 total includes exemptions for homeowners of $415 million, an increase of 200% over 1972, and business inventories of $14,500,000, an increase of 79% over 1972. These are reimbursable funds which will be returned to the County by the State. The Homeowners' Exemption was $3,000 market value ($750 assessed) last year, but was increased to $7,000 market value ($1,750 assessed) this year and will show as a deduction on the tax bill in November. The inventory exemption was increased from 30% last year to the present 45% and will also be shown on the tax bill

Other exemptions amount to $107 million including churches, welfare, colleges, veterans, etc. This is down 10% as a result of a reduction in veterans' exemptions from approximately $20 million in 1972 to $2½ million in 1973.

The major reason for the almost predictable growth in the assessment roll was new construction, particularly multiple residential condominium, and commercial properties. The building permit value in 1972 was over one billion dollars, compared to ¾ billon in 1971. Along with this, there was a net increase of 23,893 new parcels created by subdivisions during the past year.

Carlsbad up 60%

The large increase in Carlsbad, up 60% over last year, was essentially due to the annexation of La Costa. Coronado's 33% increase and the 34.5% increase in Del Mar, was due to significant new construction along with a reappraisal which revealed a strong upswing in property values. San Marcos continued its growth with a 27.7% increase which was primarily due to new construction in industrial facilities and new living units. A 19% increase in Vista is a reflection of property reappraisal and heavy living unit construction. In San Diego, major construction of high rise buildings in the downtown area, vigorous industrial construction on Kearny Mesa, and continued growth in Mission Valley, including the new Copley plant, accounted for a substantial part of the 14.2% valuation increase.

The unsecured roll which is not final because of additions and cancellations is approximately $422 million at this time, an increase of about 17% over last year, and includes about 66 million in business inventory exemption.

The unincorporated area includes Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. The increase was 11.4 per cent.

The assessor's office said that figures were not available for specific communities within the unincorporated area, such as Lemon Grove or Spring Valley.

Elementary school district records are a little more definitive.

The Lemon Grove district has a valuation of $46.8 millions—up 7 per cent. The La Mesa-Spring Valley district has $190.3 millions—up 8 per cent

Chula Vista had the smallest increase—5.7 per cent.

Carlsbad with the greatest increase racked up a whopping 60.6 per cent.

The figures represent the community as a whole and are not laid on each parcel. In the Carlsbad area, the huge increase is mostly due to property development. Built up communities showed a lower percentage of increase.

But increased property values accounted for some of the increase.

If there is reason for disputing the new assessment laid on an individual's property—and a notification from the assessor's office advises of the amount of the increase—put in a call to your friendly county assessor, Chuck Williams.

He'll be glad to hear from you.

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Sales Tax: A Study in Arrogance

Californians feel frustrated and betrayed by the imposition this week of the new, higher sales tax.

The change from five to six cents amounts to a whopping twenty per cent increase that is unwarranted, unwanted and unneeded.

It will cost Californians who are already desperately fighting to co-exist with an equally-stupid, government-inspired inflationary policy, an added $1.8 million a day to live.

The increase follows by just a few weeks a battle between the bull butterflies in our state legislative bodies regarding the refund of income tax overpayments by workers of California.

The battle by which the new tax is imposed is just about as senseless as that which brought the income overtax refund to a crisis.

The difference between the two approaches is terms. Battlers were saying, "If you don't play it my way, there isn't going to be a game." It became a battle for power—a situation that apathy of taxpayers has allowed to develop.

It is an arrogant game Sacramento lawmakers are playing. Through stubborness and irresponsibility, measures are manipulated for party benefit. It is agais the case of "the people be damned".

In this case it is a power play between Governor Reagan and Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti (D-Van Nuys). Moretti is the yet-to-be-announced candidate for the governor's job next year. It is he who has been the major obstacle to the administration's tax relief programs.

When the administration attempted to delay the sales tax boost until January 1 and to provide a 20 per cent income tax rebate, the legislature refused to move the measure because of party politics. Gov. Reagan then personally sponsored a tax-limitation measure that would be a step in the direction of averting any such future intransigence. The measure qualified for the ballot last week and will be voted on November 6.

The sales tax issue game plan by those who would obstruct it was to couple the issue with another, and force a veto by the governor.

In this case the obstruction was a measure to refund 30 per cent of last year's state income tax to those who earned less than $25,000. The administration wanted to include all of those who paid the unnecessary taxes. But a counter proposal was made in the interest of getting both tax issues into operation. It was proposed by the administration that the rebate would be on a sliding scale ranging from 35 per cent on lower incomes to 20 per cent in the top level incomes. The administration wanted the due date for the new, higher sales tax to be January 1. The opposition countered with July 1, 1974 as the date. The added six months was not a rational arrangement to the administration's thinking.

When the measure reached the governor's desk with its inequities in income tax refunds and its extended sales tax date, he vetoed it.

Meanwhile, both houses had adjourned for a five-week summer vacation.

In this improbable power play scene is a budget that shows a surplus of $829 million as of the end of the fiscal year last Friday. This surplus will grow to $1 billion by the end of next year — without a single dollar from the increased sales tax figured in.

So the question becomes: "Why are they over-taxing the state's working people?" There seems to be no sensible explanation and yet there is political suicide in the foolishness. We think Legislature will face a hostile constitutency when it reconvenes in August.

State Senator John Stull, with a reputation for pragmatism said, as he locked his office for the vacation, "It will be hard to go back to the people and say we are going to have nearly a billion dollars surplus next year and we're imposing that tax."

Anxious Reader:

Your communication is so complex it almost defies answering.

(1). This publication has not changed its party affiliation since Watergate — it's still GOP.

2). They don't have to appoint him. Spiro Agnew would automatically become President if Mr. Nixon resigned.

(3). You're dingy! There is no such thing as "impeachment with honor."

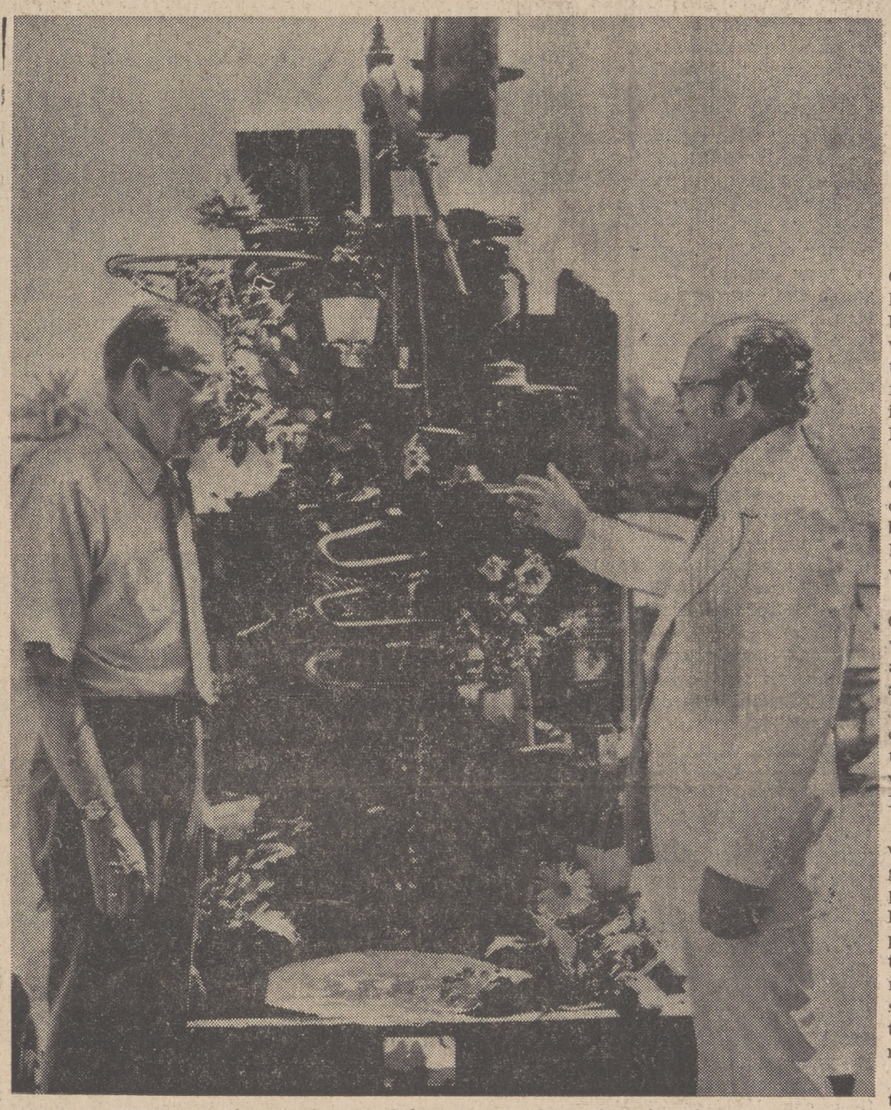
Schnick Pleads Not Guilty at Arraignment

Jerry Robert Schnick, the San Diego man accused of murdering a 15-year old Spring Valley girl, entered a plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity at his arraignment last Friday.

Schnick, who was apprehended near the scene of a stabbing June 12 by two men who were driving by, is being held without bail. A bail review was scheduled for today.

Schnick is suspected of the brutal murder of 15-year old Carol Valkonen, who was walking to school when she was accosted. She was a sophomore at Monte Vista High School.

A trial date of October 15 has been set.



"THE MONSTER — is what employees of the Lemon Grove School District have dubbed it, and Superintendent Robert Sutton was on hand to present it to William L. Bartholomew at a reception Friday marking Bart's last day with the district after 23 years of service. The structure, which is a functioning fountain or bird bath and not a still, as some in attendance first thought, is made up of worn out pieces of the district, representing Bart's service to the district as head of maintenance. Bart helped the district through the construction of six schools, which he oversaw, and recently saved the district a substantial sum on the construction of a new warehouse.

State Commission For Local Study Eyed By Harry Griffen

Creation of a permanent state commission to study local government problems and recommend solutions was advocated last week by Harry Griffen, Helix Water District prsident, to a subcommittee of the Council on Intergovernmental Relations — Local Government Reform Project during hearings held at the County Administration Building.

The five member subcommittee and other subcommittees have been conducting a series of hearings throughout the state and will recommend to the governor and legislature ways to improve local government and special district operations.

Griffen, of Lemon Grove, also suggested uniform bi-annual elections for all local governmental units. "This would include counties, cities, school districts and all other special districts," he said.

"Partisanship, which encourages interest in state and national elections and which is lacking in local elections, would be replaced by combined voter interest in all local units of government which deal with him daily. The citizen, no longer badgered by innumerable election calls, might turn out in record numbers to register approval or disapproval of local issues," Griffen added.

He also suggested consolidation of the large number of special district acts into a few acts without removing authority or interfering with operations. He pointed out legislation pertaining to cities at one time varied with the size of the city, but there is now a general law applicable to all cities.

However, he opposed legislation aimed at wholesale reduction of local governmental units through the power of higher authority.

"There is enough now known about the strengths and weaknesses of governmental structures to conclusively assert that creating more units or eliminating units will not solve any problems," he pointed out.

Griffen made his recommendations following the detailing of the history and present operations of Helix Water District and challenging what he referred to as "the numbers game". After calling attention to the superficiality of relying just on numbers, he quoted statistics which might be used to prove the smaller a water district the more efficient is operation.

He emphasized that when cooperation between existing units of government fails to solve problems, creation by voter approval of a single purpose unit of government in the geographic area usually solves the problem.

Charles Kahan Dismissed As Helix High Teacher

The Governing Board of the Grossmont Union High School District has voted to dismiss Helix teacher Charles Kahan, who has twice been brought to court and twice released from charges relating to an incident with marijuana in November, 1971.

Kahan, who has been on compulsory suspension without pay since his indictment by a Federal Grand Jury on Nov. 8, 1972, has 30 days in which to contest the decision.

Without the action of the Governing Board, Kahan would have been automatically reinstated following his acquittal in Federal Court on June 21, and would have received all of his back pay for the period of suspension, which dates back to Nov. 13, 1972.

The compulsory suspension, which does not presuppose guilt, is automatic under the provisons of the California Education Code. The accused party is suspended from his teaching duties, and receives no pay until the case is resolved. If not found guilty, the person is reinstated and receives his back pay.

Trustees had 10 days from the date of the acquittal n which to decide to take action. Following the first court case, in February 1972, in which the prosecution withdrew charges rather than answer the questions of the judge, Kahan was reinstated and returned to teaching. Trustees considered dismissal proceedings at that time, but declined on the advice of County Counsel that they did not have sufficient evidence at that time.

There was strong community reaction that the Trustees had not pursued the case fuily.

Following his indictment by the Grand Jury last November, Kahan was again suspended wthout pay. The decision to continue the suspension and statement of intention to dismiss was presented in a four-page resolution passed unanimously by the Board in open session after a closed executive session meeting last Thursday. That meeting was a continuation of an adjourned special meeting of last Tuesday.

If Kahan chooses to contest the decision, a three-member Commission on Professional Competence will be set up. Chairing the commission will be a Hearing Officer from the State Office of Administrative Procedure. The other two members will be one person appointed by Kahan, and one appointed by the Governing Board. The Education Code stipulates that the person must be a "professional with at least five years experience in the specific educational function of the accused." Therefore, the other two appointees would be classroom teachers.

Kahan, an English teacher at Helix High School, was arrested along with El Cajon resident Jerry Bordeaux on November 17, in Gila Bend, Arizona, after officers had observed individuals loading large parcels from a light plane into Bordeaux's pickup truck in the secluded desert location. Officers uncovered approximately 1,000 pounds of marijuana in the back of the enclosed camper.

Kahan has claimed from the beginning that he was an unwitting passenger in the vehicle. He said that he had been home ill for several days and had stayed out of school for an additional day because his sore throat would not permit him to lecture for five hours. He said that Bordeaux had convinced him that rather than sit at home, "a ride to Arizona and back couldn't hurt him much." And that "he would be back in plenty of time to teach school the next day."

Mrs. Shepard Takes Over As CofC President

Mrs. Raydene Shepard was installed president of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce at a banquet meeting June 26.

Herb Ketell, outgoing president, presided over the meeting until John Reiber, a representative for Assemblyman Bob Wilson, installed the newly elected officers. They are Mrs. Shepard; Larry Timmons, first vice president; Dr. Hugh Norris, DVM, second vice president; Naomi Marshall, secretary; Bessie Bailey, treasurer; and 14 members of the Board of Directors.

Mrs. Shepard then took control of the meeting to make remarks. The new president said she thought that "Spring Valley is ready to burst and become a real activity center for the east county". Mrs. Shepard also said she wants to see the chamber engaged in more fund raising projects such as antique shows, art shows, and dinners.

Pyle Tells Chamber Of Miguel Pool Plan

Mt. Miguel High School principal Bob Pyle was the speaker at last Thursday's meeting of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce at Pal's Cafe.

Pyle told the chamber about a steering committee which has been formed in hopes of constructing a swimming pool and recreation center at Mt. Miguel.

Pyle said that the group, comprising members of the school Boosters Club, faculty, local citizens, and members of local organizations, will begin immediately with fund raising activities, with a major fund raising kickoff scheduled for September.

The group has set $200,000 as its goal for the pool project, which will also include lights for the high school tennis courts and a wading pool for toddlers if enough money is raised.

Pyle indicated that the recreation center would best be constructed at Mt. Miguel for several reasons. If it is constructed there, the Grossmont Union High School District will aid with maintenance and will chip in $25,000 toward construction.

Additionally, a measure being pushed by second district Supervisor Dick Brown would call for up to $50,000 to be contributed by the county to pool construction projects at high schools.

The pool would be used by the school water sports teams, as well as in the regular physical education program. In the evenings and in the summer, it could be used for recreational swimming.

Bob Guest, of U. S. National Bank in Lemon Grove, told chamber members that letters from local citizens in support of Dick Brown's proposal would be helpful in Brown's efforts to get the measure approved.

The chamber voted to send a letter of support for the proposal to Brown.

In other chamber business, Tom Little reported on the VFW-sponsored teen dance held June 7, indicating that about 80 youngsters attended the affair. He said that results of the dance were so satisfying that they will be held monthly. The next dance will be July 27.

Fire Board Eyes Budget

Finalization of the Spring Valley Fire Protection District's 1973-74 fiscal year budget is expected at the July 12 meeting of the district's board of directors.

The new budget, which may or may not be adopted at the meeting. differs greatly from the preliminary budget adopted in April, largely because of changes in anticipated revenue as a result of SB-90 and a changing tax base.

A 6.5% cost of living increase has been granted for all employees, boosting that portion of the budget, and new funds have been allocated for a new diesel power plant for one truck which "blew" a gas-powered engine. The diesel engine will be more efficient in fuel use and maintenance.

Other changes in the budget will also be discussed at the meeting.

The budget is expected to be in excess of $700,000 for this year, as compared with about $680,000 last year. No significant change in the district tax rate is expected.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By James Hardison

Cognates are words that are similar in origin. There are many Spanish words that look like English words. The reason for this is that they come from the same basic word in Latin or another foundation language.

There might be a slight alteration in the spelling from Spanish to English of cognates. The greatest problem in learning these types of words is distinguishing the pronunciation from one language to the other.

"Produccion" looks much like the English equivalent "production." Pronunciation of the Spanish version would be "prob - dook - see - OHN." This may appear in phrases like "La produccion de los coches es entre los mas importantes." (The production of automobiles is among the most important.). Another expression might be "Vamos a estudiar la produccion." (We are going to study the production.).

"Continente" is the Spanish word and "continent" is the English. They are cognates. "Continente" is pronounced "kohn - tee - NEHN - teh" and means the same as its English cognate. This may be used in the phrases "Yo vivo en el continente americano." (I live on the American continent.) and "Ella vive en otro continente." (She lives on another continent.).

"Extremo" looks like its English counterpart "extreme." An approximation to the pronunciation would be "ehs - TREH - moh." We may hear this in phrases like "No se que extremo ha tomado ella." (I don't know what extreme she has taken.) and "Es un articulo extremo." (It is an extreme article.).

"Programa" would be easily recognized as the equivalent to the English word "program." "Programa" is pronounced "pro-GRAH-mah." This word may occur in phrases like "Tienen ellos un programa?" and "El programa es muy corto." (The program is very short.). Normally words that have feminine endings like "programa" also have feminine articles but "programa" is an exception and uses either "el" or "un" as the related article.

"Magnifico" is converted to the English "Magnificent." Spanish pronunciation would be "mahg - NEE - fee - koh." Phrases using this word are "El es un hombre magnifico." (He is a magnificent man.) and "El hace un trabajo magnifico." (He does a magnificent job.).

Several cognates are a part of the practice expressions listed below. You may wish to learn them with the aid of the phonetic guide and the telephone recording (276-2762).

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Hay poco produccion." (AH-e POH-koh proh-DOO-SEE-OHN) for "There is little production."

Say "Es un continente grande." (ehs oon kohn-tee-NEHN-teh GRAHN-deh) for "It is a large continent."

Say "Que bonito programa." (keh boh - NEE - toh pro-GRAHM-mah) for "What a pretty program."

Say "Es un caso extremo." (ehs con KAH - soh - TREH-moh) for "It is an extreme case."

Say "Es un trabajo magnifico." (ehs oon trah-BAH-hoh mahg-NEE-fee-koh) for "It is a magnificant job."

Say "Son condominios." (sohn kohn-doh-MEE-nee-ohs) for "They are condominiums."

Synod Set For Diocese

Almost 30 years ago, the Roman Catholic Diocese of San Diego called its first synod—a type of ecclesiastical convention within a Diocese.

In October, the diocese will convene its second synod.

The two synods will have little in common. Their similarities are names and some issues to be discussed. In the first synod only priests of the diocese took part. In the second synod, the entire diocese will be represented with not only priests, but nuns, brothers and the laity as participants.

The purpose of the synod expected to last until May, 1975, is to survey in depth all areas of diocesan life and programs and to update the laws governing the diocese. The last time this was done was in 1943.

A synod is "a renewal," said the synod's executive secretary, Rev. Philip F. Straling. "The church does not live in a stationary world and we have to keep up to date."

A training session for participants in the synod is scheduled to begin Monday at 7 p.m., with a daytime session to start Tusday at 10 a.m., at St. John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove.

Computerized Spanish Monte Vista Project

One teacher who can't wait for summer to end is Nadia Davies, a Spanish teacher at Monte Vista High School. Noticing the excitement that computers generate in students, Nadia decided to see if a computer could be used in language instruction.

Using a "borrowed" terminal and "borrowed" time on the high school district's educational computer, Nadia set up some simple practice exercises on a computer program. Her first program was a simple vocabulary test — the computer has 80 words and their opposites. When a student activates the computer, it randomly selects 20 words. The student must then type in each antonym. If he is wrong, the computer types out, in Spanish, "Sorry, try again." The results were overwhelming, and now she plans to set up a program featuring 40 verbs in five tenses, which can be used in 120 different combinations.

She is excited about next year, because the district has decided to allocate money out of its innovation fund to provide her with terminals and computer time which is not "borrowed". She hopes to include French and German.

Sea-Going Pile Driver Christened

A christening ceremony for an unusual Navy sea-going craft was held Monday morning at 10 a.m., on the Mole Pier aboard the Naval Station.

The craft is a self-propelled pile driver constructed by the San Diego Navy Public Works Center Transportation Dept., and is scheduled for use within the PWC Mantenance Dept., operation.

PWC Commanding Officer, Capt. James A. Burfield, was joined by 1973 San Diego Seabee Queen, Navywoman Mary Davidsaver assigned with the Naval Training Center Public Affairs Office, in cracking the traditional bottle of champagne across the craft's bow.

A self-propelled pile driver is not a common craft in the Navy nor in civilian industry. The PWC craft is tailor-made for the work it must accomplish. The mission is upkeep and repair involving an estimated 11 miles of piers aboard or associated with naval installations in the San Diego area. The pile driver construction project was headed by PWC Transportation's Dick Waller, of 7255 Mount Vernon, Lemon Grove.

COMBO Eyes Goal Of $100,000 For Spring Community Campaign

COMBO expects to surpass its $100,000 fundraising goal for the 1973 Spring Community Campaign as cash and pledges continue to be received from businesses, corporations and foundations.

$80,650 in cash and pledges has been received, and additional donations of $46,558 are expected to be received soon by businesses, corporations and foundations where home office or local board approval is pending, Robert L. Miller, 1973 Campaign Chairman said. Miller said that the additional contributions will be from firms who have been yearly supporters of COMBO since its inception. These firms have not had time to present a proposal to their boards for approval.

If the estimated donations from firms and individuals are received, COMBO will have raised $127,208.00 during its 1973 Spring Campaign. Last year the spring drive raised $128,000, of which $65,000 was contributed from individuals. This year COMBO turned over to its member organizations the responsibility to solicit individuals and has limited its own fundraising activity to corporations and businesses.

The 1973 COMBO Community Spring Campaign began April 10. Businesses and corporations were contacted by campaign committee members for a direct cash contribution to support San Diego's twelve major cultural and performing arts organizations.

COMBO, an acronym for the Combined Arts and Education Council of San Diego County, is a fundraising organization for local cultural and performing arts groups. Its 1973-74 member organizations include San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association, San Diego Opera Guild, and the Old Globe Theatre.

July Is Danger Time For Weekend Boaters

A Sunday afternoon in July, calm water, good weather—a dream day for a boater, but also the situation under which more boating accidents occur than any other.

In 1972, 3,942 boating accidents were reported by the United States Coast Guard, resulting in 1,437 fatalities. The largest number of accidents were collisions with other vessels, usually because of the operator's failure to keep proper lookout.

Fatalities, on the other hand, were most frequently caused by improper loading or disregard of weather conditions.

This boating season got off to a tragic start when a fishing boat, the "Comet", sank off the coast of Rhode Island, claiming 16 lives.

The 1971 Boat Safety Act requires that rowboats, canoes, and sailboats as well as motor-driven craft, carry lifesaving devices. But the mere presence of these safety accessorie on board should not lull boaters into believing they could survive any disaster. Reports on the Comet disaster indicate that all the victims wore life preservers.

As water sports continue to grow in popularity, and waterways become more crowded, safe and courteous boating will become even more vital.

Some 5,910,994 boats were registered under the Coast Guard's numbering system in the United States last summer. And that figure does not include most of the nation's sailboats, rowboats and canoes.

According to the Coast Guard statistics, the nation's biggest boating state is California, followed by New York, Michigan, Texas and Minnesota. California and New Jersey boaters appear to be most accident-prone, while boaters on the Great Lakes appear to be among the most safety-conscious in the country.

Bio-medical Program Now 'In Full Bloom'

The bio-medical technology program at Grossmont College is now in "full-bloom" according to its innovator, Willard Dellegar. Dellegar and John Clark, who was added to the staff last September, believe the program is expanding nicely.

The curricula teaches the use of various medical equipment, preparing a student for a career as a medical technician. With the help of local hospitals, further training and experience to supplement the facilities available at the college are also given.

This program is offered on an equal opportunity basis, with the only academic requirement being a high school background in math, chemistry and biology. Prospective students must also have a physical examination and a personal interview with the instructors.

Women's Detoxification Facility Ordered By Board of Supervisors

Women alcoholics in the county will soon be able to receive the same specialized care now afforded men, thanks to a decision of the board of supervisors, which voted to establish a women's detoxification center similar to one brought into operation for men several months ago.

The center will be located in the building at 1111 Island ave., San Diego, where the men's center is currently housed. The building, which is now leased to the county, will be purchased and approximately 6,300 square feet of space now occupied by a commercial firm will be used for the new facility.

Included will be a 20-bed ward, a dining room, and a lounge. Meals will be prepared in the adjacent men's center kitchen. Medication, diet therapy, counseling, and referral to long-range programs will be offered.

NEW CATALOG — One of the highlights of the new Sears fall and winter catalog is this evening great-entrance dress in crepe-textured double-knit polyester, with rhinestone buttons at the bodice and cuffs. The outfit is available in two colors.

Spring Valley Schools Begin Third Year of Year-Round Operations

The youngest kindergarten children in the State of California will begin their first day of school at three elementary schools in the La Mesa - Spring Valley School District on Thursday, July 5. Two of these schools, La Presa Elementary and Rancho Elementary, will begin their third year of successful year-round operation, while Bancroft Elementary School begins year number two.

La Presa Junior High School will also start its third year of year-round school. It was the first junior high school in the State of California to begin the year-round schedule.

Since the program began in July of 1971, more than 3,300 children have attended school on a 45/15 year-round schedule. The schedule allows the school to remain open 240 days a year while each child attends for 177 days, the same as children on the regular school calendar. Children attend class for approximately 45 school days then have a 15-day vacation.

By dividing the student body into four different 45/15-day cycles, the school building can accommodate up to one-third more children than on the traditional nine-month calendar. This, in turn, reduces the need for building new schools or transporting students long distances by bus.

Evaluation of the year-round plan was of special interest to a La Mesa-Spring Valley Year-Round School Citizens Advisory Council appointed by the Board of Education in the fall of 1971. The council conducted a survey of parents, students, and school staffs in year-round schools after the first year of operation.

"The positive response to the new schedule by all those involved was very rewarding," said District Superintendent James R. Runge. "The survey planned by our Citizens Advisory Council on Year-Round School indicates solid support from parents, from staff, and from students themselves," he added.

In addition to asking nearly 3,000 parents, students and staff members their feelings about the year-round schedule, the school district also looked at how well the children did in school subjects such as reading and arithmetic.

"Test results indicate that our students on the year-round schedule did just as well in reading and arithmetic as they had the year before they began the new calendar," according to Associate Superintendent David Pascoe. "There appears to be no difference between the progress of year-round students and nine-month students at the end of one year. Certainly, we need to examine the achievement over several years' time before definite conclusions can be drawn; however, we are quite encouraged with the results thus far," Pascoe said.

The cost of operating year-round schools has drawn the attention of school boards and administrators all over the United States. School finance is much more complex than it appears on the surface and determining the cost differences between operating year-round and nine-month schools has challenged school business officials all over California.

According to Dr. Pascoe, "Our own study indicates to us that based upon per pupil costs, we spend no more taxpayer money to operate schools on a year-round basis than on a nine-month schedule. Naturally, costs increase when the school building is open to children all year instead of only part of the year; however, when the expenses are divided by the number of students who attend the year-round school, those expenses are about the same as our regular schools. There may even be a slight savings."

Teaching the youngest kindergarten children in California has represented no special problems in the La Mesa-Spring Valley year-round schools. "By the time the year is over, the children are ready for first grade," says La Presa Elementary School kindergarten teacher Mrs. Maxine Arnold. "The children who begin in July seem to be as ready for school as those who begin in September. What really happens is the children get their education in smaller doses over a longer period of time."

Two Casts Planned For Helix Play

The Helix Summer Musical Workshop will present the play "Fiddler on the Roof" July 19-21 and 26-28 at Helix High School.

The workshop, which is a part of the Grossmont Union High School District, has over 175 local youngsters from 21 different schools, involved in the production. Norman Kay, public relations man for the play said, "We had so much talent this year that we have two principal casts of ten each." Kay explained that the strongest cast will be decided during dress rehearsals and then will open the play alternating performances with the other group.

The play recounts the plight of the Jewish minority in Russia at the turn of the century. The story climaxes with the Russian gentiles issuing an edict ordering the Jews to leave. The "Fiddler" symbolizes Jewish traditions which sustain them throughout the controversy.

Tickets for the production are available from members of the cast and crew, at Helix High from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and from Phil Patton, the faculty advisor, at 466-4194 extension seven.

Children's Films At Casa de Oro Library

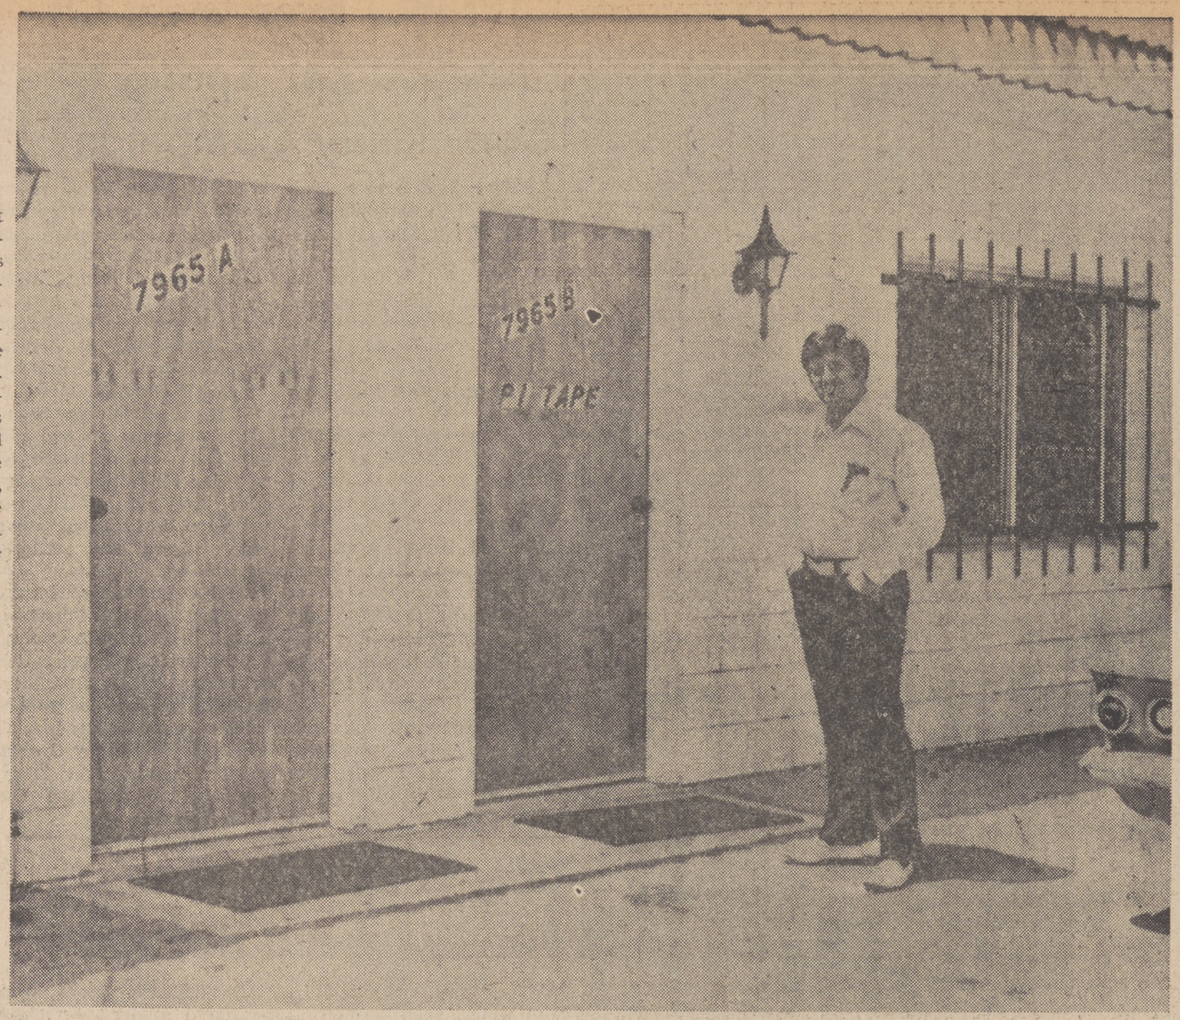
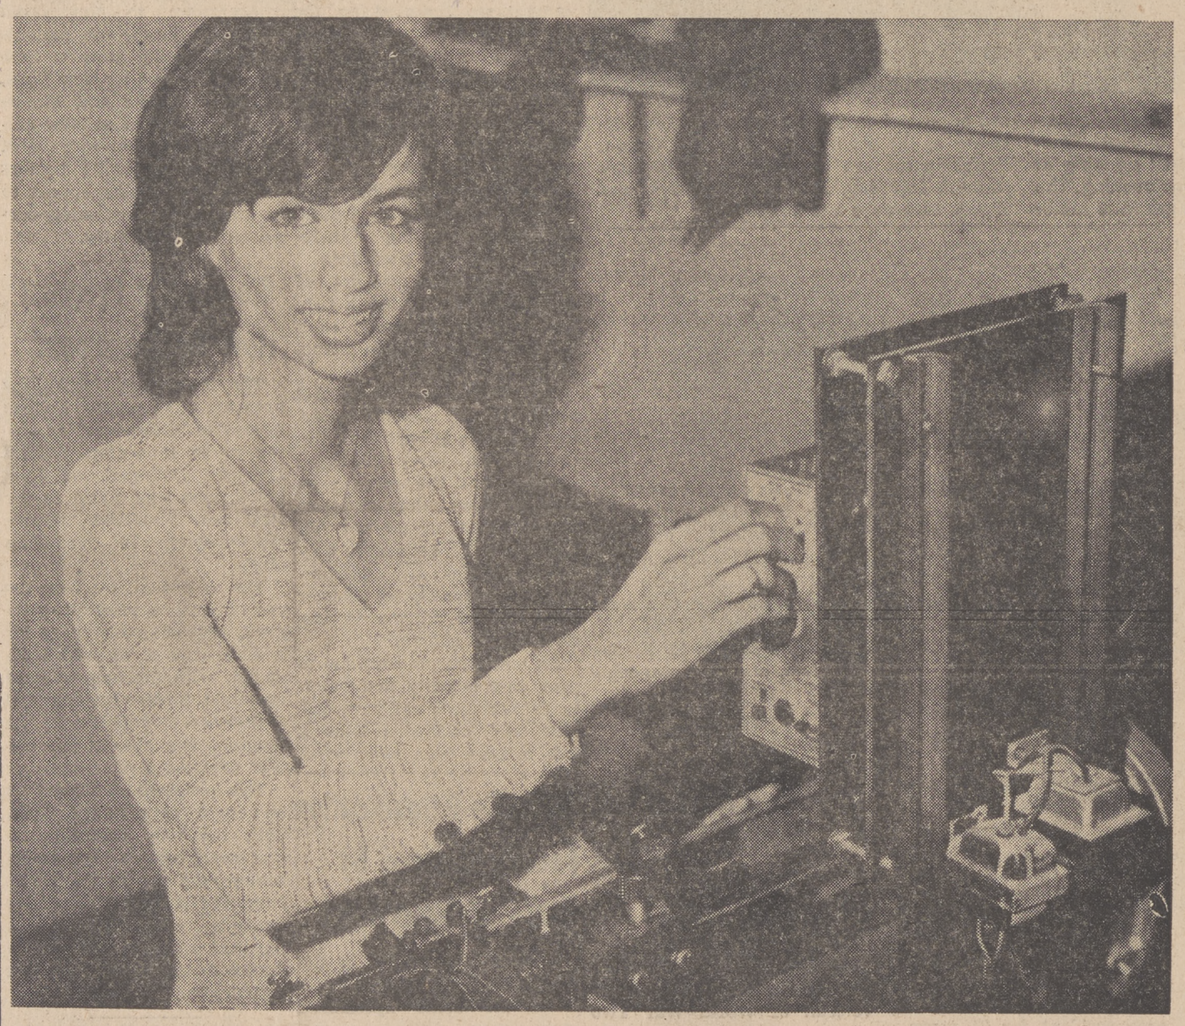
Two free children's films will be shown at the Casa de Oro Library July 11 at 8:30 p.m. for three-year olds through school-age.

One film is "White Mane", the story of a young boy's friendship with a wild white stallion. The other is "Harold and the Purple Crayon", a story in which Harold's crayon draws him into a magical garden where he has a host of adventures.

The Casa de Oro Library is located at 9628 Campo rd., phone: 463-3236.



NEW BUILDING — Larry Hadley, partner with Leo Cochran in the Lemon Grove business firm Pi Tape, relaxes a moment before entering the firm's new building on North ave. The new facility has twice as much space as the former building, which was torn down, Hadley said. The firm manufactures specialized measuring tapes of precision used for circular measurement.



DELICATE WORK — Stephanie Harper, an employee of Pi Tape, explains how Pi Tapes are made. The tapes, which sell for anywhere between $23 for a small one to $1,000 for a large custom constructed one, allow manufacturers of round objects to determine diameter by measuring the circumference, eliminating complex calculations and increasing precision.

IRS, UC Extension Plan Tax Workshops

Th Internal Revenue Service and University of California Extension will collaborate to offer a summer course on the preparation of individual income tax returns, primarily for tax practitioners, but open to anyone who is interested.

Sections of "Fundamentals of Tax Preparation" will be offered throughout the statewide Extension system, with the San Diego section scheduled for Wednesday evenings July 11-Sept. 26. Class meetings will be held 7-9:30 p.m. in Room 2113 of the Applied Physics and Mathematics Building at UCSD.

The IRS will furnish a student handbook tailored to the course, Federal Income Tax Publication 17, and the Tax Guide for Small Business, as class materials.

A registration fee of $50 will be charged. For details call Extension office, 453-2000, ext. 2061.

ROTC Gets School Service Award For Second Straight Year

At a time when many people think that youth is totally disenchanted with anything connected with the military, the ROTC program at Mt. Miguel High School is one of the healthiest organizations on campus.

For the second year in a row, the ROTC has received the ASB trophy as the organization which contributed the most to the school. A graduating senior received a Navy scholarship which will pay most of his college expenses for four years.

The local ROTC even has its own sea power — a large captain's gig donated by the Navy and refurbished by the students. Those who qualify as crew members wear a specially designed Tee-shirt.

Now, also, a girls' auxiliary has sprung up to add "moral support."

Civic Youth Offers String Workshop Again

The Civic Youth Orchestra will again sponsor a string workshop at Grossmont College, according to Robert Emile. Last year 89 string players from throughout San Diego County attended.

The three-week workshop begins July 17 with sessions from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. The concluding session will be August 2.

Open to students of the violin, viola, cello and string bass, the workshops are divided into three levels according to the skill of the individuals.

The faculty will consist of Emile, conductor of the Civic Youth Orchestra and concertmaster of the San Diego Symphony; Mrs. Gloria Hill, violinist with the San Diego Symphony and Michael Deathridge, principal cellist with the San Diego Symphony.

Applications are being accepted by Gwendolyn Cornll, 1249 Pepper dr., El Cajon. There is a $10 registration fee.

Nila Repard Gets Bachelor's Degree

Nila Jean Repard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manford A. Repard, of 2041 El Dora st., Lemon Grove, received her bachelor of arts degree earlier this month at commencement ceremonies at Occidental College of Los Angeles.

Miss Repard, a psychology major, graduated Cum Laude.

Speaker at the commencement was Douglas K. Ramsey, career officer with the U. S. department of State, recently released after seven years as a prisoner of war in South Vietnam. Ramsey is a 1956 graduate of Occidental.

Occidental's Class of 1973 includes students from 30 states and five foreign countries.

Crackdown On Slowdown Seen For Freeways

Chances are you will be stopped by a California Highway Patrolman if you create a freeway bottleneck by driving too slowly in the left-hand or middle freeway lanes.

California Highway Patrol Commissioner, Walter Pudinski, said there is a need for stepping up enforcement to eliminate congestion problems and the accidents caused by drivers who clog freeways.

He pointed out that the California Assembly has identified the problem in a recent resolution which specifically dealt with the "unsafe practice of driving motor vehicles towing trailers . . . and certain motor trucks in the middle and left lanes of divided highways", creating hazards for other vehicles. The resolution also sought increased enforcement.

California law provides that vehicles with a maximum speed limit of 55 mph — including three-axle trucks and all vehicles towing trailers — must be driven in the right-hand lane of the multi-lane roadways except when preparing to turn, and when passing must use the lane immediately left of the right-hand lane, returning to the right-hand lane when the pass is complete.

"The law also requires any vehicle moving slower than the normal flow of traffic to be driven in the right-hand lane or as close as practicable to the right-hand edge of the road", the commissioner added.

Pudinski said all patrol field commanders have been instructed to "take appropriate enforcement action which will reduce violations as a necessary step in cutting down accidents and minimizing congestion."

Love 'Machine' in Coliseum Replay

CHAMP — Rudolpho Gonzales, world lightweight champion fighter, who will display his abilities in a 4-round exhibition match Friday, is pictured with Joey Bishop, star of teevee and clubs. Bishop will not be in attendance for the Friday show.

World Champ In Exhibition

Can middleweight David Love get his machinery in motion in time to score a decisive victory Friday night over Marco Gerardo?

In a main-go rematch of an uninspired effort two weeks ago at the Coliseum, Love took a unanimous decision over Gerardo although fans didn't agree with the referee and judges. Love, a notoriously slow starter, almost never got the Love Machine going. He says he plans a faster start Friday.

Love's record is 18-3. He is 24 years old, 5-11 and 156 pounds. He lives in San Diego.

Gerardo, 20, has a 24-7 record. He is 5-11 and weighs 157 pounds.

If Love makes early moves, the 10-rounder could be as exciting as any matchmaker Mickey Davies has presented this season.

Certain to attract attention is a four-round exhibition match which will showcase world lightweight champion Rudolpho Gonzales against Tommy Durden of Los Angeles. It will mark the first time in many years that a current world champion has appeared in the Coliseum ring.

Gonzales won the crown Nov. 10, 1972 in a Los Angeles battle with Chango Carmona.

In another rematch, lightweights Julio Lopez of San Diego will tackle Tony Bellard of El Cajon over a 10 round course. In their June 8 brawl at the Coliseum, fans tossed $140 in the ring because the intense action pleased them. Lopez won that one by landing a couple of heavy punches early in the fight.

Late Tuesday, ten more rounds were added to the post-holiday card.

Gonzales Rodriguez will take on Rosario Savela in a six-round welterweight card.

In a four-rounder, lightweights Luis Robles and Elesito Casillo will mix it.

That totals 30 rounds of scrapping and four rounds of exhibition — and at bargain prices, yet.

Davies said the July 6 show would again feature general admission tickets at half-price.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E. Ring time is 8:30 p.m.

TAKES SECOND — Pat McIntyre was first and third last week but is second and second this week. McIntyre, a Spring Valley stock car driver, finished first and was third in the point standings last week, but finished second and moved into second place in points this week at Cajon Speedway. McIntyre, who came within 160 points of point leader John Dineen, averted a four-car crash on the fortieth lap to finish second to Don Overman. Jim Hitt, who was involved in the wreck, dropped to third place in points. More super stock action is set for Saturday, with qualifying at 6:30 and racing at 8 p.m.

'Boy Meets Girl' Off To Strong Start For Lamplighter Theatre

By Sue Waldron

After experiencing some minor technical difficulty, the three act play "Boy Meets Girl" got off to a strong start in its four-weekend run in La Mesa.

The play, written by Bella and Samuel Spewack, is a comedic satirization of the early Hollywood system of agents, producers, writers and stars. The star in this case is a B-grade western hero, Larry Toms, aptly portrayed by Larry Wagoner.

Toms is in a slump with the option of either making a good movie or not having his contract renewed. His writers, Robert Law and J. Carlyle Benson, played convincingly by Tom Morton and Harry Cownie, decide to do something new to the standard "boy meets girl, boy loses girl, boy gets girl" plot by adding a baby.

The baby they intended to use in the picture is the illegitimate son of Susie, a young girl who works at the studio cafeteria. Toms doesn't want to act with a baby, but is given no choice. The baby, Happy, becomes an overnight superstar. Susie, played by a young drama major from Grossmont College, Kim Garland, is thrilled by her son's success.

Law and Benson have the child's power of attorney, and are riding high on Happy's notoriety until Rosetta, Toms' agent, comes up with a plan. She encourages Toms to marry Susie so that he will control Happy's future. The part of Rosetta is played by the female half of a talented husband and wife team co-starring in the play. Karen Starr plays the cunning, unfeeling agent while her husband Walt, gives an excellent performance as the browbeaten producer.

The last act brings a surprise future for Susie and a returning to the routine for the rest of the characters.

The play, which is a Lamplighter Theatre production, takes a lighthearted and nostalgic look at the movies in early days. It will run for the next three Fridays and Saturdays at the Ben Polak Memoral Recreation Center at 8053 University ave., La Mesa. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.; tickets are $2 for adults, $1.50 for students and senior citizens, and $1 for children.

Tunney Bill Would Reform Amateur Sports

The U.S. Senate Commerce Committee today approved the Tunney - Pearson - Cook Amateur Athletics Act of 1973 providing for the comprehensive reform and restructuring of the way open amateur athletic events are now administerd.

Among the bill's main provisions are:

—Establishment of an Amateur Sports Board as an independent Federal Agency, the members of which would be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate and which would issue charters to sports organizations as the principal governing bodies for the sport involved.

—Provision for a commission to be appointed by the board, which would review U. S. participation in the Olympic Games and submit findings and legislative recommendations no later than March 15, 1974.

—Provisions for a National Sports Development Foundation to guide the formulation of a national sports development program.

Senator John V. Tunney (D-Calif.), who conducted hearings on the legislation in late May, issued the following statement after the Commerce Committee action:

"The primary purposes of this bill are to protect the rights of amateur athletes in open competition events to ensure that our Olympic participants have the administration they need, and to begin a program of amateur sports development.

"Testimony before the committee demonstrated abundantly that our amateur sports programs are in a state of bureaucratic chaos that too often denies athletes the right to compete in events."

Construction Starts

Construction has started on La Jolla Federal Savings and Loan's newest branch office in the Casa de Oro area of Spring Valley.

The Spanish style structure was designed by the architectural firm of Markham, Van Leeuwen and Associates in San Diego.

La Jolla Federal has been serving Spring Valley with a portable structure through formal ground breaking last week. The new office is expected to be finished by late summer.

La Jolla Federal will open its fourth branch in Fallbrook, constructing an office there identical to the one now under construction in Spring Valley.

The Casa de Oro office is located at 9631 Campo rd., Spring Valley.

'Over 40' Track Meet To Draw World's Best

Two of the best long distance runners in the world in the over-40 group showed they are ready for the AAU Masters Track & Field Championships next weekend.

Events will be held in Balboa Stadium Friday 10 a.m.-7 p.m. and Saturday 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

On Sunday, two events will be held in Mission Bay Park at 6:45 a.m. One is the marathon walk (26½ miles).

Here in San Diego, Hal Higdon, 42, the writer from Indiana, ran the fastest recorded time for an over-40 American in the 3 mile race at Balboa Stadium on Saturday. His time of 14 minutes 36.7 seconds on a warm afternoon, and without being pushed by several younger competitors, indicates that Higdon is ready to repeat his 1971 win in the 10,000 meter race.

Every year the competition gets tougher, though, and Loure O'Hara, 41, an electrician from London, showed over the weekend that he too did not make the expensive trip to San Diego to leave with silver medals.

Running against a strong open field of Los Angeles area runners he won the College of the Canyons 7 mile road-cross country race in 39 minutes and 11 seconds. Second was young and talented Ed Mendoza from San Diego who was more than a minute behind.

Since O'Hara has also entered the 10,000 which will be run on Friday at 6:15 p.m., the race shapes up to be—unless hot weather prevents it—a classic. Many other talented runners will run, and it is always possible that an unknown "new-40" will win, but he will have to beat two of the best 40-plus competitors who have ever run.

The anticipated 350 entries have arrived and strong competitive fields in all of the distance runs, especially, should provide at least ten new meet records.

Dance Class Sessions Set

All of the Park and Recreation Department's dance classes are open to both male and female dancers.

Padres 2nd Annual Old Timers Game Scheduled for July 13

Stan "The Man" Musial, a hit with San Diego fans at last year's Old Timers Game, will return for the event next week.

Musial, who is nearing 53, showed fans he has lost little of his famous hitting ability that allowed him to have a .330 season in the 135 games he played for St. Louis at age 41.

Musial will be in the lineup July 13 in San Diego Stadium for the second Old Timers Game, which is to precede the regularly schduled Padres vs. Cards contest. And he will be joined by many of baseball's greatest names of the past.

Those players who previously have been announced as accepting invitations include Ernie Banks, Ralph Branca, Luke Easter, Whitey Ford, Mickey Mantle, Mickey Owen, PeeWee Reese, Bobby Thomson, Al Zarilla Satchel Paige and Gus Zernial.

Larry French, himself an Oldtimer of considerable fame who also serves as chairman of the game, said that there will be more than 20 former baseball greats assembled for the event.

"It'll be a most impressive representation of former baseball stars," French said.

French also announced that the umpires for the game had been selected. They are: Emmett Ashford, the first black umpire in the majors; Al Barlick, who umpired for 32 seasons in the National League; Ed Runge a San Diego resi dent who worked for 16 years in the American League; and Pat Orr, well known here for his work in the Old Pacific Coast League.

Musial, who played for the Cards from 1941 through 1963, had more than 3,600 career hits including 476 homers. He was the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1943 and 1948 and participated in four World Series. Advance sales have topped 12,500 Padre excutives said.

Tickets for the July 13 Old Timers Game may be purchased any day at the Padres Stadium Ticket windows and by mail: write Padres, Box 2000, San Diego 92120.

Saturday Night

Meanwhile more than 700 persons will participate in a pre-game pageant Saturday prior to Padres-Cubs game and a gigantic fireworks display will be presented following the contest as part of the God Bless Amrican celebration at the Sadium.

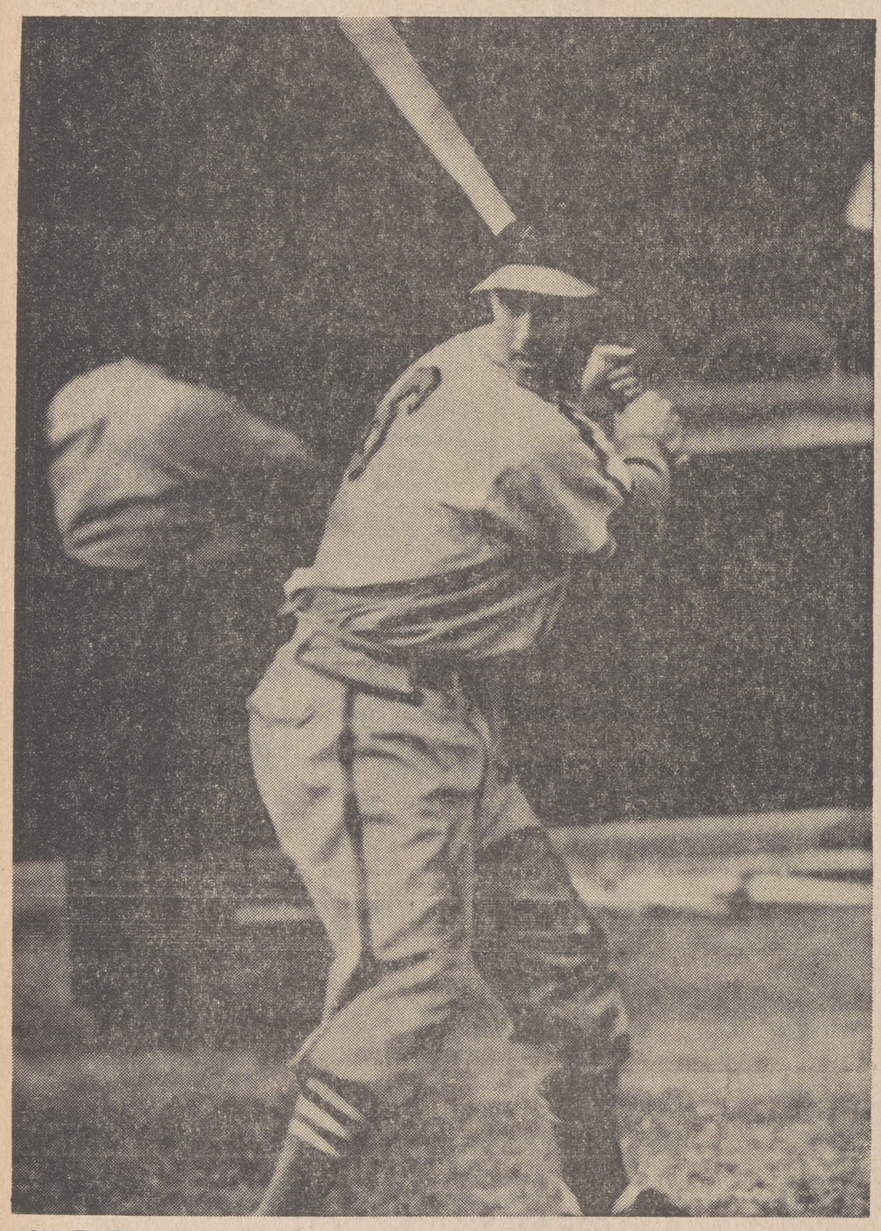
The annual patriotic event never failed to attract one of the largst crowds of the season and in 1971 drew 39,105 to the Stadium, the record for a baseball game in San Diego.

Excellent seats still remain for Saturday's game and may be purchased any day at the Padres' Stadium ticket office or at any Ticketron location throughout San Diego County.

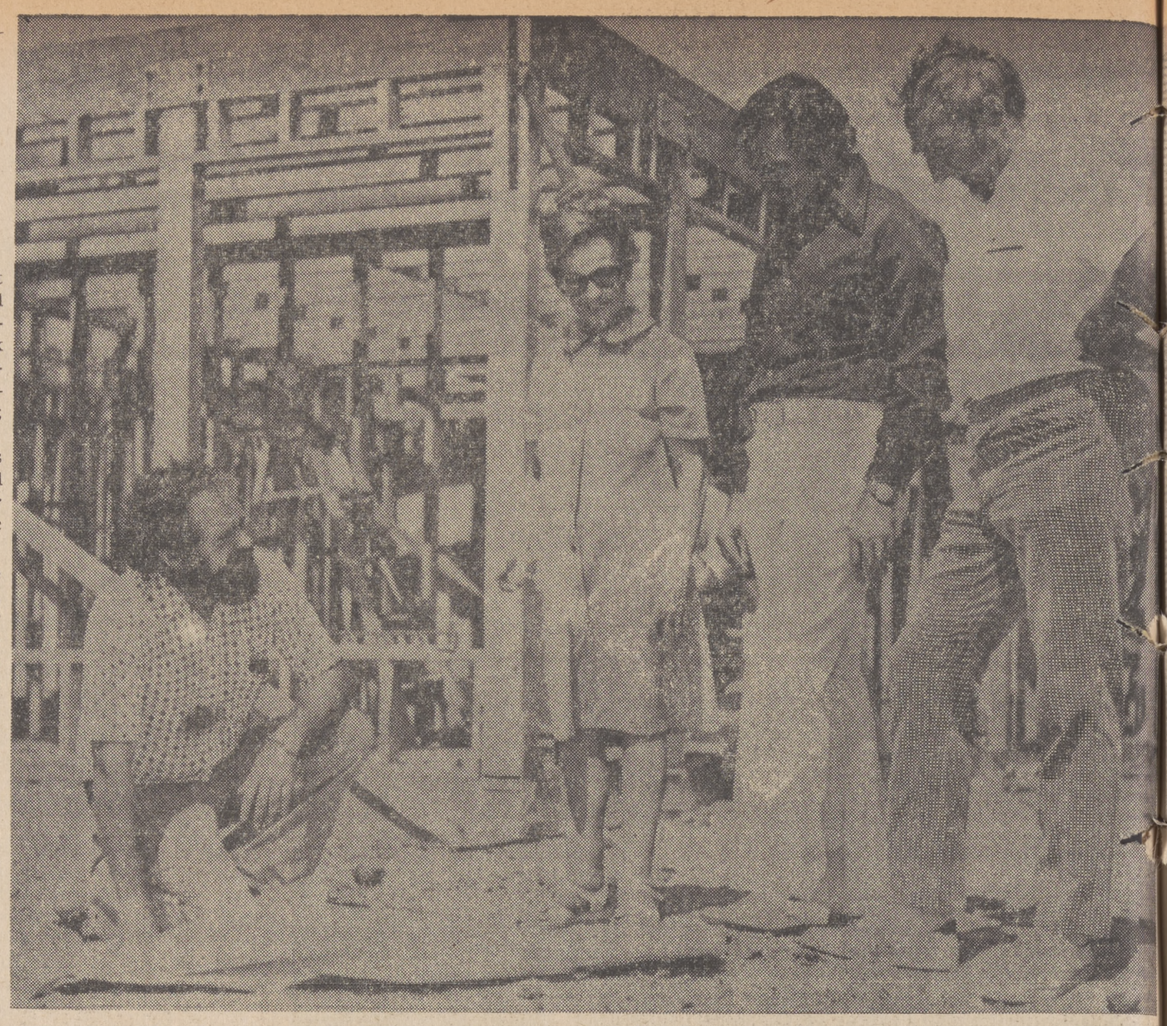
More than 125 organizations will be represented in the pregame on-the-field show, which will have as its theme the "Powerful Bridge of Inspiration."

Returning POW's will be guests of honor at the celebration, the 11th Naval District Band will perform along with the NTC's famed 50-State Color Guard. Pearl Harbor Survivors Color Guard also will be present.

The fireworks show, the largest in Southern California, will begin immediately following the final out.



OLD TIMER — Stan Musial, former St. Louis Cardinal great, is among those expected to participate in the Padres Old Timers game July 13 at San Diego Stadium.



NEW FACILITY — Contractor Bob Oldham, left, explains operations to Verna E. Miller, Gary Al Miller, and Jack J. Miller, who have the Miller Guest Homes in Lemon Grove. ## World's Junior Golf Champs Open San Diego Play Wednesday

Mike Brannan, winner of the state men's amateur title Sunday, and Rise Alexander, of Portland, the current Oregon girls prep champion, have entered the sixth annual Junior World Golf Championships that begin four days of play next Wednesday.

The big junior golf tournament has drawn 500 top junior golfers, including an all-time record field of 44 players from 28 foreign nations. Twenty states are also represented.

Boys 15-17 will play 72 holes on tough Torrey Pines South, girls 15-17 tackle North Torrey three days, then switch to South for the final round, Saturday, July 14. Fans may watch at Torrey Pines.

The younger age divisions play 54 holes, finishing Friday, July 13. The 13-14s play Balboa Park GC, 11-12s try Mission Bay executive-length course, and the 10-and-unders are at Presidio Hills, a pitch-and-putter. No arrangements for galleries are available at the above courses.

Brannan, who was the 1971 national junior champion, will be playing in his third Junior World.

The long-hitting 17-year-old from Salinas, won the boys 13-14 in 1970, shooting two-under-par 214 for 54 holes at Balboa Park, a JW mark that still stands. He did not place in 15-17 in 1971.

Miss Alexander, twice Arkansas girls champ before moving to Oregon, will join a strong field of 15-17 girls on North Torrey Pines. The field includes Anne Sverdrup of Norway, Ximena Benales of Chile, Suzanne Cadden of Scotland, and Alice Miller, of Marysville, who won the Fresno junior girls title this year.

As good as Brannan is, he will have no cakewalk in the boys 15-17. He will face 240 other entrants whose handicaps run from one to five, including 30 foreign contenders.

San Diego's own entry list in 15-17 is impressive, including as it does Jack Renner, the boys 15-17 defending champion; Rich Friedman, current San Diego county prep champ; Scott Simpson, runnerup last year in the USGA junior amateur; Curt Worley, who has won two men's titles here this year; and Joe Flood, a national semi-finalist two years ago in the USGA junior.

Renner plays Torrey South like he owns it. Last year he shot 296 to win the title, and was only one over par after 54 holes. In '71 he was second as a 15-year-old, shooting 293, with one round on easier North Torrey.

Nations represented in this year's Junior World: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bermuda, Canada, Chile, Columbia, Denmark, England, Finland, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Mexico, Norway, Panama, Peru, Philippines, Puerto Rico, Portugal, Rhodesia, Scotland, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, and West Germany.

Ned's Wins Thrilling Sky-Grove Playoffs

Ned's Outboard claimed the Sky-Grove Pony League title last week by doing away with the Angels in a single game playoff then taking two out of three games from Lido's for the title.

Under the system of the league, the winner of the first half season takes on the winner of the second half season in a three-game playoff for the overall title. Lido's won the first half season, but a losing streak early in the second half campaign put the team out of the running for a clean sweep, which would have eliminated the three-game series.

During the second half, an early winning streak put the Green Hornets, later re-named the Angels, out in front, but Ned's came on strong during the last three weeks to tie for the top spot, then beat the Angels in the single playoff to earn the right to meet Lido's.

The three-game series started out poorly for Ned's, as John Young and Chris Flores, pitching for Lido's combined on a one-hit shutout. Ned's pitching wasn't much better than its hitting, as Lido's collected nine hits, ten walks, and an even dozen runs for the 12-0 victory.

Lido's should have saved a few of those hits for Sunday's first game, when Ned's pitching was suddenly improved, although the hitting was still a little lax. Earl Ritchey took the mound for Ned's and twirled a one-hit shutout while fanning 13 batters. Richey did it all, in fact, clouting a solo homer in the fifth frame to supply the winning run. Rex Jenner doubled home an insurance tally in the sixth to make it 2-0.

Rex Jenner handled the pitching for Ned's in the second game Sunday, as John Joung and Chris Flores again teamed up for Lido's.

In the third inning, three hits and two walks brought in five runs for Ned's and gave the team what seemed to be an insurmountable lead. In the fourth inning, however, Lido's battled back to score a pair of runs, with the help of a homer by Jim Schroeder. In the fifth frame, Ned's picked up another run to make it 6-2. In the bottom of the inning, Lido's rallied and picked up a pair of runs, one on a solo homer by John Young, one of the longest belts of the season.

Jenner maintained his poise in the sixth inning and shut out Lido's to end the game.

With the regular season championship decided, the league's all star team is preparing for the post season tournament, hosted by Sky-Grove.

All-stars will open the double elimination tournament Wednesday as Sky-Grove and Spring Valley square off. Sky-Grove's team features three hitters with batting averages over .400, in addition to three top rate pitchers. Earl Ritchey boasts a 0.10 earned run average to lead the team, which also includes John Young (0.56) and Chris Flores (1.35).

Welfare Drop Cited

A decrease of 36,374 in the welfare caseload during May dropped the total number of Californians on all forms of public assistance below the two million mark for the first time since July, 1970, Welfare Director David B. Swoap reported today.

The May decrease was the largest since last June, when the rolls went down by about 39,000.

Vets Shortchanged Cranston Charges

Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) has accused the Nixon Administration of imposing a "double-sacrifice" on Vietnam war veterans.

He said the Administratiion is "shortchanging former servicemen in jobs and veterans benefits in a totally unsuccessful and unfair effort to halt inflation".

"It's the Vietnam war itself that primarily caused and continues to fuel that inflation," Cranston told an American Legion state convention in Anaheim last week

"It is altogether improper and unacceptable for the Administration to demand that the men who fought that war must now make a second safrifice through government skimping on veterans disability, education and employment programs," Cranston said.

"The Administration must stop using veterans to pay the cost of inflation. They have paid more than enough already."

Cranston, who is a subcommittee chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, said he has been actively working to set a limit on government spending that is lower than the ceiling proposed by the President.

Cranston pointed out that a bill he authored, the Veterans Employment and Readjustment Act, created 70 new assistant veterans employment representatives to assist veterans in finding employment.

"But eight months later, these positions have not yet been created by the Veterans Administration," he said.

"They are not even being actively recruited for. All of this despite the requirements of law enacted by Congress and signed by the President."

DMV Seeks Examiners

The Department of Motor Vehicles needs drivers license examiners. A test to fill examiner vacancies will be given July 28 and applications to take the test must be filed by July 6.

The monthly salary ranges from $683 to $830; and the state budget contains funds for an average 12% pay raise for state employees effective July 1.

The examination is open to men and women who have 60 semester units or 90 quarter units of college credit which include at least one course in English composition and two courses in psychology or sociology or a related field.

The 10-year recency requirement on education has been removed to give more people the opportunity to compete. Applicants must have a valid California drivers license.

The list of eligibles resulting from this examination will be used to fill positions throughout the state. However, most vacancies will occur in the Los Angeles County and San Francisco Bay areas. All persons selected will spend a month in Sacramento at the Drivers License Examiner School.

Application forms may be picked up at any office of the Department of Motor Vehicles, the State Personnel Board or the Department of Human Resources Development.

Humane Society Warns of Hot Cars and Pets

Warm weather has arrived and animal owners should again be warned about leaving unattended pets in locked automobiles.

While the owner does a "quick errand" the temperature can rise sufficiently in a car to cause the death of a dog.

State Humane Officer, Captain Bill Virden, reported that Humane Society records indicate more than a dozen dogs perished as a result of suffocation last year between the months of May and October in cars.

Virden cites one experiment conducted with a car: "At 7:45 a.m. a car was left on the shaded side of a building, a thermometer on the front seat. Two windows were cracked. The outside temperature was 75 degrees. At 9:30 a.m., just two hours later, the inside temperature was 98 degrees, with the sun just starting to shine on the car. At 11:30 a.m., the thermometer was up as high as it would go—130 degrees! The outside temperature? Not yet 90.

Other experiments have proven that the inside of an automobile can reach as high as 200 degrees if left in the direct sun.

Virden says the best advice one can give dog owners is to leave their dogs at home during the summer unless they are going to be with the dog constantly when the animal is in a vehicle. The next best is to take the dog out of the automobile when the owner leaves the car.

Only when imperative should a dog be left in a car, and then all windows should be wide open and the vehicle should be parked in the shade.

Court Installs Officers

Installing officer Sally Rice, Diocesan Chairman for Youth, also seated Susan O'Neill, vice president; Roselyn Toledo, treasurer; and Denise Dugas, court reporter.

Virginia Loveland, senior court regent; Berendine Hill, junior state reporter; Marjorie Mueller, court chairman, and mothers of the members also attended the function.

Mrs. Willmon Elected To Lung Assn. Board

A school health specialist from the Cajon Valley Union School District, Mrs. Margaret Willmon, has been elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the Lung Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties. She is eligible to serve three two-year terms.

Mrs. Willmon is a certified public health nurse and holds a masters degree in health science from California State University, San Diego.

She is a commission member of Smoking Research-San Diego and a member of the Girls Club of El Cajon and Angels Unaware.

Housing Starts Up

New housing activity in California continued to show strength in May with new starts at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 251,000 units, down slightly from April, Bank of America economists reported today.

The seasonally adjusted annual rate for April was 260,000 units.

During much of 1972, building permit activity in California ran ahead of actual housing starts. This backlog of permits is contributing to the current strength in new starts, the bank's economists said.

Cranston's Strong 'Free Press' Bill Can Re-establish Your 'Right to Know'

ALAN CRANSTON
California

United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510
June 22, 1973

Dear Editor:

Because of your support for my original single-sentence bill to protect the confidentiality of news sources, I'd like to bring you up-to-date on where we stand.

My first bill, which I introduced the day after the Supreme Court's Caldwell decision last year, was limited to the federal level. Earlier this year, at the request of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, I introduced a broader bill called the Free Flow of Information Act. (S. 158). Among other things, it extended the protection to state and local levels. Then in March, I filed an amended, strengthened version of the measure as Amendment No. 27. At that time, Senator Edward Kennedy, who is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, joined me as a principal co-sponsor.

Our bill is the strongest of any of the measures now under consideration. It came after extensive discussions which my staff and I held with a broad coalition of representatives of the press, virtually every one of whom favors the type of absolute, no-loophole bill we are sponsoring.

Under our bill, newsmen subpoenaed at federal, state or local levels could neither be forced to testify about stories they have written nor compelled to turn over notes or other work products. The protection would apply in both civil and criminal proceedings, and whether or not the information or its source was "confidential".

Our bill also sets up procedures which make it difficult for attorneys to obtain subpoenas against reporters (including giving the newsman an opportunity to block a subpoena even before it is issued), prohibits compulsory testimony or production of documents even if the information being sought has already been published or broadcast, and forbids compelling a newsman to reveal anything that would impair his working relations with news sources. Finally, it includes broad definitions of "newsman" and "news media" to prevent the courts from coming up with their own definitions and applying the protection too narrowly.

Just about the sole limitation on the absolute nature of our bill is that only information obtained by the newsman in line of duty — that is, information obtained in the course of gathering, compiling, composing, reviewing, editing, publishing or disseminating news — is protected against compulsory disclosure.

Senator Kennedy and I hope Senator Ervin will incorporate he essentials of our bill into the bill he has offered. As chairman of the Judiciary Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights and as one of the great Constitution scholars and statesmen of the Senate, Sam Ervin is the key to passage of any legislation affecting First Amendment rights.

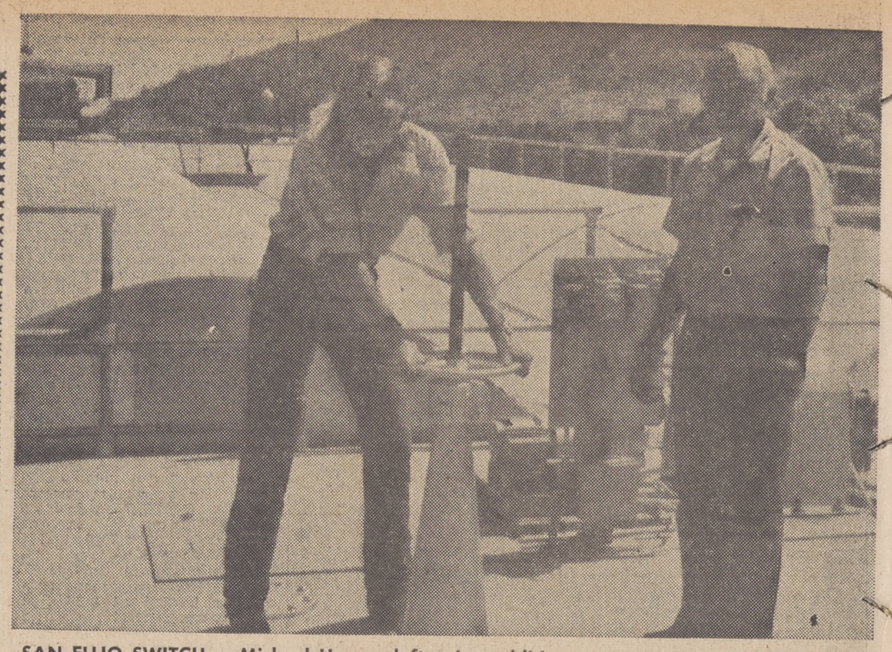
Senator Ervin agrees with many of our concepts, but frankly there is still a good way to go before we can reach a meeting of minds. A crucial, unresolved matter is Senator Ervin's belief that the protection should be withheld in any case in which a reporter has allegedly witnessed a crime. Any such "eye-witness" exception would mean that any reporter who covers a protest or a demonstration could be subsequently subpoenaed, since he may very well see someone breaking the law.

We hope we can convince Senator Ervin to drop this provision, or at least to limit the exception to crimes of violence — and even then only after independent evidence has first established that a violent crime has in fact been committed and there are no other witnesses. We also hope we can persuade Senator Ervin of the importance of accepting the presubpoena protections in our bill. He presently does not feel they are essential.

Since Senator Ervin is now occupied with the Watergate hearings, he has deferred subcommittee action on a news source protection bill. However, Senator Kennedy and I will be meeting with him to try to work out our difference. Meanwhile, time is on our side. We are gaining support, I believe, among the people as well as in Congress. Watergate has demonstated to even our critics that a press that is truly free — free to gather news as well as to print it — is an indispensable watchdog against corruption and abuse of power in government.

Thank you for your interest and your help.

Sincerely,
Alan Cranston



SAN ELIJO SWITCH — Michael Hogan, left, and Dutch Falconer, of Lemon Grove, work to prevent dangerous pollution levels in ocean outfalls and general water quality from the San Elijo sewage treatment facility. In addition to waste water and sewage from several communities outside of the Metropolitan Sewage System, the county also maintains a toxic and hazardous liquid disposal site near Otay.

Sewage Treatment Handled by County's Liquid Waste Division

The San Diego County Department of Sanitation and Flood Control last year processed 6.4 billion gallons of liquid waste, enough to fill Mission Bay every two years.

Wastewater disposal for various incorporated and unincorporated areas of San Diego County is one of the department's principal responsibilities, according to James E. Frandsen, head of the Liquid Waste Division. This division operates one of the three major sewage disposal systems in this region. Others are the San Diego Metropolitan Sewage System and the City of Oceanside system.

"We are very concerned with promoting the health and safety of the residents of the county through effective collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal of liquid wastes," Frandsen said.

A department of the San Diego County Public Works Agency, he said Sanitation and Flood Control manages the liquid waste activities in 14 County Sanitation Districts under policy direction from the Board of Supervisors.

The department's responsibilities range from the small mountain communities of Julian and Pine Valley to the coastal communities of Cardiff and Solana Beach and the suburban metropolitan areas of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. The department also operates a jointly owned regional liquid waste system which serves four cooperating agencies in north county, Frandsen added.

The Liquid Waste Division consists of three areas. Facility Operations is responsible for the operation and maintenance of treatment plants and pump stations. Collections and Transmission deals with maintaining the public collection and transportation lines, while Laboratory and Industrial Waste works with the control of industrial waste discharges. There is also a state certified laboratory which supports the entire operation.

"Our facilities are operated and designed to prevent water pollution," Frandsen said. "We must meet the standards established by the California Regional Water Quality Control Board and the County and State Health Departments."

At present, the deparment is striving toward a regional basin-wide integrated management of the water supply, he said. The approach will result in an increase in direct reuse which will conserve the limited supply of water available to the Southland.

"With the rising price of imported water and the promulgation of strict standards by the State for the discharge of waste water into the ocean, the need to reclaim water will eventually increase," Frandsen said. "At present, we have found no consumptive use for the reclaimed water."

In order to meet the tougher government standards and to prevent pollution of the ocean, the San Diego County Department of Sanitation and Flood Control is planning for additional treatment at the ocean outfall facilities, located at San Elijo and Encina, he said. New facilities are being built and others expanded to provide better service for the residents of the county as well as prevent pollution.

"We are currently meeting all requirements for water pollution control," Frandsen said. "The improved treatment plants will aid us in our efforts to keep the quality of water at its highest level."

Only 125,000 File For Senior Tax Break

Only 125,000 California homeowners of 62 years of age have filed 1973 claims for a reimbursement of their 1972-73 property taxes under California's Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance Law, according to State Controller, Houston I. Flournoy.

Flournoy said the claims must be filed before October 15 to be valid. The law provides for reimbursement of up to 95 percent of property taxes, depending upon the individual's income. Assistance payments for 1972 totaled $59 million, for an individual average of $202.

To be eligible for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, claimants must be over 62 years of age, own and occupy their home, have paid property taxes on the home and have an income of less than $10,000.

'Independence Park' Feature at Sea World

A gala turn-of-the-century Independence Day celebration began Saturday at Sea World in Mission Bay with all the old-fashioned fun of the 1890's.

Exhibits of antique cars, and other modes of transportation of the era, as well as 1890's entertainment, are featured during the nine-day celebration of the nation's independence.

"Independence Park" has been created within Sea World on the grassy picnic area between Shamu/GAF Stadium and the American Airlines Flagship Tower where all exhibits and entertainment are featured. Red, white and blue bunting surrounds the area and colorful canopies accommodate a Dixieland band and area barbershop quartets. Old-fashioned priced beer, soft drinks and hot dogs are offered.

In keeping with the theme of the event, a special production of patriotic music will be featured in the Sparkletts Water Fantasy show. Produced by the Sea World Production Department staff, it features more than 500 water and light changes with music such as the all-American favorites of George M. Cohen and a red, white and blue armed forces tribute.

The Navy Bluejacket Choir will give a performance at 2 p.m. this Saturday and the San Diego Naval Training Center Band will perform at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Trust Fund May Aid In Park Plans

At last Thursday's meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association, a representative of the County Planning Department aided the group in setting up a trust fund area for park purposes.

The newly formed trust fund area will encompass the area already covered by the LGPA with the addition of an adjacent unincorporated area off Rolando blvd. The money now held by the County in a trust fund was derived from a new park fee which is charged when a building permit is issued. The fees vary according to the zoning of the land from a minimum of $115 to a maximum of $200 for a single family residence.

The possibility of money from the fund, used only for the acquisition of park property, being granted to aid in the financing of the six acre site off Berry st., is being investigated by the chairman of the group, James V. Dorman.

The next meeting, which will be held July 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Golden Avenue School will mainly be concerned with methods of acquiring the park property, and a future election which will set a tax rate for development and maintenance of the park. According to Lynn Skinner, County Associate Planner, all funds raised in the issuance of building permits in the Lemon Grove area must be used in the same area.

In other business, it was reported that hearings on both the Murray Hill Condominiums and the expansion of the Cresta Loma Convalescent Home have been set for tomorrow. The Cresta Loma facility, at 2922 Palm ave., located on a 1.6 acre site just off Skyline dr., is requesting permission to build a two-story facility to house approximately 149 residents.

Alternative plans for the Broadway area of Lemon Grove were discussed and are being held for further study by the group.

The next meeting, July 12 at 7:30 p.m., Golden Avenue School auditorium, is open to the public.

Local Fisherman See Trout, Channel Cats

Fishermen are still having a good trout bite at Lake Miramar and Lake Murray.

The general consensus seems to be "go deep." With the warmer water temperatures, the trout are seeking colder water.

Crappie and bluegill are slowly picking up at El Capitan. A number of nice stringers have been coming out. Channel cats are beginning to bite.

The big fishing news seems to be the channel catfish at Sutherland. Large fish and large stringers are coming out.

Sparks Cause Second Fire in Spring Valley

The redesigned cheque, blue and gold, has three globes on the face, and a new countersignature line on the reverse to discourage forgery. Both versions will be sold and accepted worldwide until the new design is completely phased in. The new triple globe cheque, issued and payable by BankAmerica Corporation, will be available in denominations of $10, $20, $50 and $100.
